OTTENHEIM.

Mrs. Wm. Wardloe, of Garrard, was up to attend the burial of her uncle, Garland James.

Willie Higgins Anderson, son of Wm. Anderson, is seriously sick with pneumonia. John Westzel has been sick, but we are glad to say he is now convalescing. Mrs. Jennie Anderson is ill with intermittant fever. Masalien Trubiste on the sick list.

Garland James died at his home of pneumonia, aged 77. For 16 days he hovered between life and death, and on last Thursday morning the Lord said: "It is enough; come up higher," and his spirit took its flight to the God who gave it. He was a devout member of the church and had professed religion early in life. No man ever walked the path of life any more circumspectly than he. He was loved and admired by all and had a host of friends, both rich and poor. He was known all over this section as "Uncle Garl." He leaves an aged wife and four children. The funeral services were conducted by Elder J. G. Livingston, he being the deceased's favorite preacher. At the close of the services there was scarcely a dry eye in the room. The remains were laid to rest in the Abraham burial-ground

Don't Worry.

Don't worry your husband,
Don't worry your wife;
It takes all the sweetness
Out of your life

It is not what you promised,
It is selfish and low,
And makes weeds to come up
Where flowers should grow

Don't worry your children,
Don't worry your mother,
Don't worry your sister,
Your father or brother.

Don't worry your teacher,
Don't worry your "boss;"
No good can come from it,
And you make life a cross

Don't worry your servant,
Don't worry your friend;
Then you'll find your own troubles
The sooner will end.

Spring Has Sprung.

"Sweet spring has sprung;
The little birds begin to twit,
The setting hen begins to sit,
And everything is glorious, nit,
Since spring has sprung

"The sky is blue;
Sweet carpet dust perfumes the air;
Carpet tacks are on the chair;
You sit on one, then rise and swear—
The air turns blue.

"All nature's gay;
The old cow greets the rosy morn,
She hath the milk pail on her horn;
Her would-be milkers on the barn—
The old cow's gay.

"Sweet flowers bloom;
On your wife's new bonnet too,
Her milliner must be a Jew,
At any rate she's doing goa,
A V per bloom.

Mr. William C Mullins, one of Livingston's cleverest and most progressive citizens, and Mrs. Lou J. Maddox, a handsome widow of that place, surprised their legion of friends by going to Knoxville and being joined heart and hand.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Charles F. Lembeiger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Also good for burns and ulcers. Only 25c at Penny's Drug Store

Edith—Did you have any trouble in getting papa to listen to you when you asked for my hand?

Edward—No I started by saying that I knew how he could save money.

Startling Mortality.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

E. C. WALTON

ANENT the brutal treatment of her husband by Gen Miles, Mrs. Jefferson Davis writes as follows to the Savannah Press: "Whilst I have no recollection of having written to Gen. Miles, the letter which he quotes not only fails to support his previous statement in the slightest particular, but as its date shows, must have been written from the prison ship in Hampton Roads and when, of necessity, I was ignorant of what was being done with Mr. Davis, who had then been only four days in the custody of Gen Miles. If the letter was written, subsequent events have revealed the fact that at that moment, when an agonized wife was thanking him for his apparent courtesy in answering anxious inquiries in regard to her imprisoned husband, and was commending him to the kind care of his custodian, this man, by his own showing, was contemplating the immediate subjection of his helpless prisoner to the grossest maltreatment. If the letter be as Gen. Miles quotes it, it only serves to put in a clearer light, if possible, his continued infraction of the most obvious rules of veracity." After reading the letter, Gen. Miles in his peculiarly pompous manner said: "I will not reply to any insolent letter of that kind."

THIRTY-TWO years ago Congress disgusted the country by voting the salary grab. It resulted in many of those who voted for it being retired to oblivion. Now the House comes in for increased odium by voting a mileage grab of $190,000 to pay members for the journey to their homes and back to Washington in the recess that did not occur. In December, 1903, the special session ended with the opening of the regular session, there being no interval. But the House decided that there was a constructive interval, and after waiting to screw their courage up to the sticking point, the members decided to "grab" the amount. Fortunately, however, the Senate thought otherwise and declined to be a party to the fraud and the members will not get the boodle, after showing their hands at highway robbery. In a spasm of virtue the House said that Judge Swayne ought to be kicked out of office because he charged the government $10 a day for expenses. Then it returned to its normal condition and voted to steal. Alas, for the rarity of official honesty!

THE Harrodsburg Democrat, which seems to be a chronic kicker, goes out of its way to make a gratuitous fling at Gov. Beckham, who has in some way incurred its displeasure. It says that the governor rushed to the telephone to deny that the Hargises had asked his support in the courts as well as to deny that he had asked Judge Hargis to resign from the State democratic committee. The facts are that the governor was called up by an inquisitive reporter and asked some questions which he answered after declining to be interviewed and saying that he did not intend to be drawn into the controversy. The governor has no more right than any other citizen to ask Judge Hargis to resign and no more interest in his resignation than any other democrat. So long as the Harrodsburg paper continues to claim the name it does it should at least treat a democratic governor fairly, which is all that he or his friends demand.

W. S. TAYLOR "views with alarm" the result of his mock trial before the court of students at Des Moines. Taylor himself prepared the brief in the case, the jury was composed of republicans, with the exception of one democrat, and still after eight hours of deliberation, it announced its inability to agree. If Taylor cannot be acquitted by a moot court of his part in the assassination of Gov. Goebel on evidence and argument furnished by himself, he stands a poor chance of being cleared by a court of competent jurisdiction, and we advise him to huddle as close to Gov. Hanley as he can. If a Kentucky jury ever gets hold of him it will be "hang Taylor" without reference to whether it "dams the republican party" or not.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT was inaugurated President Saturday with great pomp and ceremony. The faithful and those who expect a reward cheered themselves hoarse and vied with each other in seeing which could make the most noise. The city was in gala attire and for once the weather behaved beautifully. Considering his former strenuous utterances, the President's inaugural address was commonplace and disappointing, except as to its brevity.

A COUPLE in Wolfe county were married immediately after being baptized in an icy creek and while still standing in the freezing water. They were evidently buoyed by the thought that when the heart is warm ice and snow can do no harm.

THE Richmond Register is getting old enough to show gray hairs. It has just celebrated its 39th birthday and gets better as it grows older.

It is said that President Roosevelt will try his Negro medicine on the dog. That is to say, he will appoint a Negro collector of internal revenue at New York. We opine, however, that there will be just as much of a howl and a kick there as at Charleston, S C, where the Negro Crum was given a similar job.

THE Somerset Journal, one of the best semi-weeklies in the State, has just entered upon its seventh year.

POLITICAL.

President Roosevelt will be the guest of the city of Louisville March 28.

It is said Secretary Shaw will retire from the Cabinet in February, 1906.

Judge Ira Julian is a candidate for circuit judge in the Frankfort district.

Gov. Hanly, of Indiana, has announced that he will appoint to office only total abstainers.

The City Club of Louisville, an organization which will endeavor to carry the fall election, was organized. John H. Brand was elected president.

President Roosevelt is said to have under consideration the appointment of Charles W. Anderson, a Negro lawyer, as collector of internal revenue for the district of New York.

It is considered doubtful in Washington whether the San Domingo treaty will be ratified by the Senate. Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, who would probably have voted for it, is out, and a number of republican Senators are unfavorably disposed and may not allow party feeling to control their votes in the matter. A defeat of the treaty would be regarded as a terrific blow to the Administration.

The time in the final sitting of the House Saturday was largely taken up with expressions of good will and kind fellowship. Loving cups were presented to Speaker Cannon and Minority Leader Williams. Both responded in happy speeches. Mr. Hepburn, chairman of the committee on appropriations, in giving the customary resume of appropriations, stated the amount to be $699,048,104, and the estimated revenues for the next fiscal year to be $725,590,515. He said it seemed clear that there would be no deficit. Mr. Allison, in the Senate, however, stated that the total appropriations would be about $818,000,000, and said that the deficit for the next fiscal year would be no greater than for the present one.

Valuable Property For Sale.

Ten acres of land, a two-story front 7-room cottage. The house is new. A splendid garden and orchard. There is a large mill on the place; a good crusher and the dam is in good repair and the natural power is great economy in running the mill. Does a splendid business. Everything is in good repair and has all necessary out-buildings. The owner's only reason for selling is the rush of other business, as he has extensive farming interests to look after. This property is on the Hanging Fork about 4 miles from Stanford, and can be bought at a bargain. For further particulars, address S. C. Thompson, Lyle, Ky., or for painting houses. The reason's plain. Mastic is the purest, therefore the most durable and economical. There is a whole string of "other fellows" claiming "just as good as Mastic" but they don't prove it. Maybe they can't. The analysis of Mastic is published. It's made of pure lead, zinc and linseed oil—the most durable kind of paint—and its purity is therefore unquestioned.
L. R. Hughes, Stanford, Ky.

MASTIC MIXED PAINT

Can't Be Touched

As purity means durability, the splendid wearing qualities of Mastic have given it the title of "The Kind That Lasts," and this title is backed up by our absolute guarantee. Mastic is made by

THE prospects are that the largest and most fashionable crowd ever seen at Walton's Opera House will witness the Romeo and Juliet performance Thursday evening next. Tickets will be placed on sale at McRoberts' Drug Store to-morrow morning.

MOORE.—James D. Moore, aged 30, died at Junction City this morning, after a long illness. The burial will take place at McCormack's church at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. Mr. Moore had many friends in this county who will learn with sorrow of his untimely death.

FRIENDS here deeply sympathize with Mr. James T. Carson, of Louisville, in the loss of his splend'd wife, to whom he had been married but a short time. The death occurred Saturday after a protracted illness. Mrs. Carson was a Miss Snyder and a sister of Mr. Carson's first wife.

HUTCHISON.—Miss Lily Hutchison, aged 21, died at the home of Mr. Jas Hutchison, near Hales Well, Sunday and was buried at Highland yesterday afternoon. She had been ill of consumption for a long time. Miss Hutchison joined the Methodist church when a little girl and had been a devout member since.

THE following is a portion of a letter received by this office from Mr. Will Severance, who was in Washington en route to New York to buy goods: "We arrived this A. M. and feel o. k. Little disappointed about getting rooms, as the Vanderbilts had gotten the rooms we calculated on getting. Major W. H. Higgins is with me and is feeling all right."

HUSTONVILLE—Mrs. John Diewiddie, who has been ill for some time, is much better During her recent illness she coughed up a bone, which lodged in her throat several years ago, which had been a source of great annoyance to her. Mrs. Mary J. Weatherford is in receipt of the sad news of the death of Mrs. Eliza Riffe, a cousin, who lived in the far West Mrs Riffe was a sister of Mrs. James J. Doye, formerly of Hustonville. Mr B C. Allen and family, of Harrodsburg, were the guests of Mr and Mrs. C H. Vanarsdale George B Pruitt, of Moreland, who was kicked by a horse several weeks ago, is still laid up. He has suffered a great deal. Miss Cora Lipps' school in Mercer will close Friday and her friends are delighted that she will soon be at home. Little Elizabeth Reid Pruitt, of Moreland, is ill with whooping cough Mr. W. Gill Cowan and Miss Bettie Cowan are both sick with grip Hall Anderson sold to McAllister & Smiley a bay horse for $150. The Weatherford Hotel is the most popular hostelry in this section of Kentucky. Many drummers arrange their trips so as to spend Sunday there and the house is always comfortably filled J. G. Weatherford & Co. are getting in furniture by the car-load Watch out for an "ad." At the show Saturday night Miss Rose Sandidge was voted the most popular young lady in town. The theatrical company that held the boards at Alcorn's Opera House all last week, is playing at Liberty this week It is a creditable show and deserving of the liberal patronage it received at Hustonville. Prof R. S. Eubank is giving entire satisfaction as superintendent of the Graded School and he and his excellent wife are popular both with pupils and parents. Miss Kate Bogle is an efficient teacher in the school and is doing splendid work. Mr James W. Allen is making barrels of the best maple syrup mortal man ever tasted. He has an extensive sugar camp. Miss Sallie Cooke and H. B. Hocker, of Danville, spent Sunday here. The 10-cent counter at Wheeler's is a wonder Smith Yowell is putting in a force pump for James C Reid. When completed it will be equal to water works.

OPEN SESSION —The open session of the Gamma Beta Sigma Literary Society of the Stanford High School was enjoyed by all who were present The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Glass, followed by instrumental music by Miss Bessie Yantis Then the minutes were read. Next on the program was an oration by Lloyd Huey. He handled his subject, "Life's Saturday Night," in a way that showed much serious thought The second oration on "Habit," was delivered by George Hopper. It contained good counsel, both to old and young. Miss Mattie McClary then gave a fine selection on the piano. Owing to sickness, Miss Bessie Yantis read Miss Mobley's essay, "Life of Mrs Browning," which showed that she had been a close student of that noted author. The president of the society, Hubert Carpenter, was next on the program. "Progress" was his subject and it certainly deserved the compliments it received. The next was an oration by James Newland, subject, "Attention." He showed undoubted oratorical powers. Miss Ida Moore then read a brief sketch of "Silas Marner," which showed that she had been an appreciative as well as close student of that noted work. One of the most pleasing features of the program was a quartette, "Ben Bolt," by four of the young gentlemen, and all regretted that the limited time prevented them from responding to the hearty encore. Miss Sara Dunn read a fine selection. The last essay was read by the secretary, Miss Le Grand Jones, subject, "Patches." This essay was especially bright and original. Robert Waters read the "Journal" of the society, which contained many rich jokes and bright comments on the current topics. The society then joined in singing "My Old Kentucky Home," Miss Allie Huffman presiding at the piano. Last, the critic, Miss Ida Moore, called attention to the faults of the afternoon. One of the greatest pleasures of the occasion was afforded by a graphophone, which Beverly Rout cleverly operated. The principal and teachers very much appreciated the visits of so many patrons to the class room during the afternoon. Gamma Beta Sigma certainly won great honor in this first open session, and we predict that in the future it will be honored with a full house. X Y. Z

THOSE who will take part in Miss Edia May Saunders' "show," "A Noble Outcast," are practicing nightly and they will have their roles down fine by Wednesday night, 15th Between acts Miss Marie Mahony will give a reading.

JONES.—Dr. J. B. Jones died at his home near Crab Orchard, Sunday of paralysis, and was buried yesterday. He was 61 years old and left a wife but no children. Dr. Jones formerly lived in Lexington but came to this county six months ago and bought the Perry King farm. He was a surgeon of the Confederate army and was a man of ability For a number of years he taught school and was principal of schools at Harrodsburg, Wilmore, Irvine and Lawrenceburg. He leaves a number of relatives in Lexington and a brother, Mr. A W. Jones, of Milo, Mo.

SHAKESPEARE'S immortal story of love and passion, "Romeo and Juliet," was produced in a most competent manner at the City Opera House last night. The acting was good throughout and Sinvelle's company deserves a crowded house at every production of the famous play. Miss Pauline Paull, as Juliet, was ably supported by the principal members of the company and the leading parts were rendered in a style which presented the true meaning of the author when he wrote those significant and sometimes terrible lines. The closing scene, when Juliet awakes on the last great tragedy of her life and love, could not have been more forcefully presented.—Morning Journal, Wooster, Ohio. At Walton's Opera House, Thursday night next, 9th.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Wallace Walls, who killed Martin Brown, was acquitted, the jury being out but a few minutes. He was defended by Hon. R C. Warren and Messrs Kindrick Alcorn and T. J Hill. Jr Jeff Bryant was given a year for shooting Boyle Owsley Farris Heim, for malicious shooting, was acquitted, but given 10 days and fined $25 for carrying concealed weapons. Cicero Clarkson caught a similar fine for that offense. P. M. Ware, indicted for obstructing a passway, was promptly acquitted Dr. J G Carpenter got a judgment against Mr. W. H. Johnson for $92 50 for medical services rendered his son. Addie Givens was granted a divorce from Luther Givens

Judge Bell decided again that he had no jurisdiction in the Sheriff Contest, but granted Mr. Hill's attorneys 20 days in which to take the case to the Court of Appeals.

THE Central Ky. Real Estate Exchange & Title Co has for sale two tracts of land lying in the Southern end of Lincoln county, near Southern railway. One tract consists of 38 acres, the other five acres. The owner of this property lives at a distance and we are instructed to sell it privately. It must go. The best bid gets it. For further particulars see or address L. R. Hughes, Stanford, Ky.

Boone county white corn was originated 29 years ago by James Riley, of Boone county, Ind. It has been improved year by year by selection until its type has become permanent. The highest authorities, including the corn expert of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, J. N. Harper, consider it the best variety of corn for this latitude. At the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station this year, it yielded more than any of the 20 varieties tested. It has taken more premiums than any other variety of corn.

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE.

Hyomei, The Guaranteed Catarrh Cure, Prescribed By Physicians.

No one should confound Hyomei with patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians.

Its base is the valuable eucalyptus oil, famous for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid, which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ killing, disease-destroying and healing powers that kills all catarrhal germs that may be in the throat, nose and lungs

How foolish it is to try and cure catarrh by swallowing tablets or liquids, The only natural way to cure this disease and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold at Penny's Drug Store under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it does not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan,

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a life time; and additional bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

IN MEMORIAM.
